

Thoughts on Inquiry Based Learning

You decide....

Inquiry must be "minds on", not just "hands on"

Can you drive the learning forward through questioning?

Who decides the question to be researched or investigated?

Remember that Inquiry does not have to mean practical work

How can you encourage student – student dialogue?

Is there an opportunity for students to communicate and justify findings?

The level of teacher or student direction